A total of 60 students from Germany, Poland, Denmark and Italy will be participating

Our motto for this year's Summer Academy is taken from the title of Guy Mitchell's 1960's song 'Singing the Blues'. Both the musical and the painting workshops will be orientated on this theme. On the one hand we are interested in the sound, which is characteristic of all artistic activity, and on the other hand it is about the colour blue, which has given a style of music its name and thus also says something about the character of the colour.

The Jugendhof Scheersberg offers very good opportunities for working, such as a large painting studio, a theatre stage, an elaborate photographic laboratory and good video equipment.

The Summer Academy will offer help in creating artistic emphasis that can then be further developed at university later on.

There will also be an art history excursion to the state museum at Schloss Gottorf in Schleswig.

The following workshops are planned: Painting and Drawing, Cabaret, Photography, Video and Land Art
