Introduction: Bielefeld University

Bielefeld University was founded in 1969 with an explicit research assignment and a mission to provide high-quality research-oriented teaching. With far-reaching aims to reform nearly every area of higher education, the University has made valuable contributions to educational reforms in Germany and has been upholding its interdisciplinary, innovative and reform-oriented character to this day. The University encompasses 13 faculties covering a broad spectrum of disciplines in the humanities, natural sciences, social sciences, and technology. Moreover, a Medical Faculty is in the course of formation – a crucial step for Bielefeld University on its way to become a comprehensive university. With approx. 25,000 students in 116 degree courses and around 3,000 staff members (including 283 professors and lecturers as well as 1,500 academic staff members) it is one of Germany's medium-sized universities.

Since its foundation, the university has been guided by the principle of interdisciplinarity as well as its official motto "Transcending Boundaries – between disciplines and scientific cultures, research and teaching as well as science and society". Bielefeld University's research strengths are reflected in rankings such as the German Research Foundation’s Funding Atlas, the CHE Research Ranking and the Humboldt Rankings. For Bielefeld University, an international outlook is essential for top-level research and excellent teaching. One of the most important objectives in this context is to give research an even more intensive international orientation by systematically establishing international networks as well as strategic partnerships in its relevant research areas. Bielefeld University has been internationalizing its campus: Researchers, academic teachers as well as students from all over the world are an integral part of the university life. For attracting an even larger number of ambitious people from abroad Bielefeld University has been pursuing an international recruitment strategy and offering many services for different international groups.

After having handed in all the above-mentioned documents, you need to pay the semester fees in order to get your paperwork for the current semester (semester certification, OWL semester ticket (UniCard) on application and NRW ticket).

Re-registration

If you intend to continue your studies at Bielefeld University after the expiration of a semester, you shall re-register for the following semester. Such re-registration is made by payment of the semester fees. For this purpose, the necessary payment details are available in the online portal at https://campus.uni-bielefeld.de/gisserver/pages/cs/sys/portal/hisinoneStartPage.faces?chco=y (in German).

In addition, the payment request is usually sent to you by email right in time. For this purpose, the university uses the email address indicated in the electronic course catalogue (ekVV). If there is no email address available in the electronic course catalogue, the re-registration data may also be retrieved from the online portal on your own. For this purpose, you shall exclusively use your BITS/Electronic Course Catalogue Account and the registration option via the link “Registration as a student already enrolled” (https://ekvv.uni-bielefeld.de/idp/login?wa=wsignin1.0&wtrealm=https://idp.uni-bielefeld.de/shibidp/Authn/RemoteUser?conversation=e1s1&entityID=http://campus.uni-bielefeld.de/shibboleth&wreply=https://idp.uni-bielefeld.de/shibidp/trust). Please select “My studies/study service” in the next step. Should this neither be possible, the bank details are also available on the following website: https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/studium/studierende/studienorganisation/studienverlauf-rueckmeldung/rueckmeldung/index.xml/Rueckmeldung_Bank.html

Please note that receipt of payment will confirm your re-registration.

The usual notification periods for the forthcoming summer semester are approx. January and for the forthcoming winter semester approx. July. However, for specific reasons the exact deadlines may vary https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/studium/studieninteressierte/bewerbung/termine-fristen/

Upon receipt of your payment in settlement of your semester fees, you may print out the new semester certificates via the online portal. Please note that the NRW semester ticket needs to be issued via a separate online portal (see chapter Semester ticket). After completion of the re-registration process you may validate your UniCard (see chapter UniCard) for the forthcoming semester, as the latter also serves as OWL semester ticket.

Costs and fees

* a) Tuition fees

The Landtag of North-Rhine Westphalia decided to charge no longer any tuition fees in the state of North-Rhine Westphalia with effect from the winter semester 2011/12.
b) Semester fees

Students shall pay a kind of social contribution, known as semester fees, for every semester. Please note that the semester fees for the winter semester 2020/21 amount to EUR 312.29. These fees include payment for the public transport pass for Bielefeld and its surrounding area (OWL semester ticket) and for the whole of the state of North-Rhine Westphalia (NRW-ticket).

After initial enrolment and re-registration with Bielefeld University the semester fees need to be transferred to the University bank account as soon as possible. However, if you do not have a German bank account yet, it is also possible to pay the semester fees in cash at the University cash office which is located in the main university building next to the info desk (T0-169). Opening hours: Monday to Friday between 9:30 and 11:00 o’clock. For this purpose, please bring along your matriculation number. Payment of the semester fees in cash will shorten the transaction time.

c) Living costs

Rent and food make up the largest part of the monthly living costs. However, in addition, other expenses are often overlooked, such as for learning materials, travel costs, insurance contributions/medical expenses, telephone/internet/radio and television fees as well as leisure activities/cultural events/sports, which also have to be taken into account. In this context, it is very difficult to indicate any lump sums, as the latter often depend on the age, gender, university location and, above all, on personal preferences and practices.

The academic year

The academic year is divided into the winter and summer semester. The winter semester begins on 1st October and ends on 31st March, while the summer semester begins on 1st April and ends on 30th September.

Please note that for the Master course “Behaviour: From Neural Mechanisms to Evolution” the lecture periods are determined individually and may differ from the normal lecture periods from mid-October to mid-February (winter semester) and beginning of/mid-April to mid-/end of July (summer semester).

The non-lecture period around Christmas is as follows for the forthcoming years:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Last course day of the passing year</th>

You can open a current account called Girokonto in Germany – on the one hand, you or any other person can deposit money into or transfer money to such an account and, on the other hand, you can transfer any fees, such as rent, health insurance contributions, semester fees, etc. from such an account. Moreover, any regular payments that need to be effected every month (e.g. rent, etc.) can be made by a standing order or by direct debiting authorisation. f) Health insurance

For your enrolment at Bielefeld University a proof of health insurance needs to be provided.

There are the following options:

- Students with a statutory health insurance from EU, EEC and EEA countries as well as from countries having a social security agreement with Germany (e.g. Turkey, Tunisia, Switzerland, etc.)

  If you are insured under any national health insurance in your home country, you only have to submit the EHIC (European Health Insurance Card) or the E-111, AT 11, ATN 11 or BH-6 form to any German health insurance company which will issue a confirmation that the insurance cover is sufficient for the enrolment.

- Private health insurance

  A written confirmation made out by your health insurance provider (in German or English language) will be required. The confirmation shall include the following:

  - confirmation that you are an insurance customer
  - confirmation that your health insurance is valid in Germany
  - confirmation that your health insurance cover is sufficient for Germany

Please note that a normal travel health insurance will not be accepted!
This confirmation needs to be submitted to any German health insurance company that will issue a written confirmation exempting you from the statutory health insurance in Germany. The latter shall be presented to Bielefeld University upon your enrolment.

Please note that in this case you have to pay yourself for the medical treatment and apply for a refund from your private health insurance company in your home country afterwards. If your private health insurance company does not cover any health service, you shall cover the latter on your own which might be very expensive.

Attention: Please note that the exemption from the statutory health insurance in Germany is irrevocable, which means that you will not be allowed to change to any national health insurance provider later (during your studies in Germany, even after a stay in your home country).

- Students from countries having no social security agreement with Germany / requiring a German health insurance

Either a national or private health insurance has to be taken out in Germany. The national health insurance generally applies to students under the age of 30 and/or having not completed their 14th semester yet. The monthly health insurance contribution for students (students under the age of 23 years and students with children) having a national health insurance currently amounts to EUR 90 and for those over 23 years without any children to EUR 92. Please note that all insurance companies offering national health insurance cover charge the same fees.

Please find below some health insurance companies in Bielefeld offering national health insurance cover:

The following applies to both groups:

After taking out a health insurance you will receive a health insurance certificate which you have to submit to Bielefeld University upon your enrolment. Afterwards, Bielefeld University will inform your health insurance provider about your enrolment.

UNICARD

The UniCard is a multifunctional ID card, which means that it serves as an optically readable ID and electronically readable ID at the same time.

Structure and layout of the card

The UniCard is a plastic card in the size of a bank card which is printed in four colours on both sides. Inside the card, there is a processor chip of the type MifareDESFire8. Please note that no further storage media, such as magnetic stripes, crypto-chips, are used.

Apart from the basic layout, the card face shows the personal data as well as the user’s photograph. The basic layout is the same for all cards; they only distinguish from each other by the status (student card, university card, library card, guest card) printed on the card during the personalisation process. During this personalisation process the inner card number is additionally read out from the chip and printed on the card. Moreover, in the lower section of the card face, there is a rewritable field – a so-called TRW stripe – where any validity notes as part of the UniCard validation or any specific authorisations (semester ticket, etc.) are indicated. The card back is also designed in accordance with the Corporate Design of Bielefeld University.

Functions and application scenarios of the UniCard

The UniCard shall be used for all card-bound services offered at Bielefeld University which can be classified into optically and electronically readable identification functions. The following applications shall be relevant:

Optically readable card:

- Identification function: The UniCard serves for identification purposes and as evidence of the card holder’s affiliation to Bielefeld University. Any application scenarios might be e.g. the access to written examinations or the identification towards the security staff when entering the main building late in the evening or on weekends and public holidays.

- Semester ticket for students: On the TRW stripe of the UniCard for students, the current semester identification as well as a specific imprint agreed upon with “OWL-Verkehr” (the contracting party for the regional semester ticket) are shown, so that a valid student UniCard may be used as semester ticket. However, in the medium term, such regional semester ticket is expected to be converted into an electronic version (e-ticket). Using the UniCard as a regional semester ticket would then no longer be possible. Instead, the NRW semester ticket issued already now as an e-ticket by the traffic associations could then be used as regional semester ticket too.

Electronically readable card:

- Library borrowing: The UniCard serves as electronically readable library card for students, employees and external library users. The library card number is shown in the lower left corner on the back. The latter is used together with your library password for various services offered by the university library.

- Publicly accessible printing, copying and scanning services: The UniCard can be used for making use of the publicly offered printing, copying and scanning services at Bielefeld University. The settlement of the printing, copying and scanning costs is made via the electronic purse of the UniCard.

- Electronic locking system: The UniCard can be used as a sort of “key” for those areas of the university subject to an electronic access control.

- Access to the university sports area: The UniCard activated for the sports areas grants the card holder access to the respective areas.

- Cashless payment function (Electronic purse): The UniCard can be used as a pseudonymous means of payment. This means that the card holder can load up money on the card and use it for paying in the cafeterias operated by the Association for Student Affairs (Studierendenwerk) of Bielefeld University, the university canteen and the public printing, copying and scanning services. When using this cashless payment function, the inner card number (neither any name nor the card holder’s Uni-ID are identified) and the “electronic purse” field are read out only. For payments in the university canteen the “Status” field is additionally read out in order to determine the correct rate (for students, employees, guests).

Card technology and data protection

The UniCard is a multifunctional smart card from the MifareDESFire family. The MifareDESFire technology is part of the group of contactless smart cards within the field of Near-Field-Communication. The chip with its circumferential antenna is not visible and is inside the card. The Mifare technology allows a data transmission between the card and reading device in a distance of up to 10 cm. The UniCard uses a MifareDESFire chip of the type EV1 with a storage capacity of 8 kilobytes. Apart from the card serial number, any other data are stored in an encrypted manner on the chip; the data are encrypted by AES.

Any information used for the various applications are kept separately on the chip. Encoded modules (SAMs) in the reading devices ensure that only that information needed for the relevant application or eligible to be read out can be read out from the card.

The following data are on the chip of the UniCard:

- Card serial number
- Library identification
- Locking system identification
- Electronic purse for services provided by the Association of Student Affairs (Studierendenwerk)
- Validity period of the card

Apart from the current balance of the electronic purse, basically no other data are written on the card.
How to get the UniCard?

The UniCard has to be applied for in the Identity Management System of Bielefeld University. The access data for the IDM (matriculation number as well as your password) are shown on your confirmation of enrolment.

SEMESTER TICKET

Semester ticket – Area of validity

The semester ticket is a ticket for all students of Bielefeld University and any other universities in Bielefeld. It consists of two parts – the OWL semester ticket and the NRW-ticket (as the latter is valid in combination with the OWL semester ticket only, it is recommended to always carry along both tickets). The OWL semester ticket is valid for the local public transport of the region of East Westphalia-Lippe (OWL) 24/7, whereas the NRW-ticket is valid for all “normal” buses, trams and local trains of any further linked transport systems within North Rhine-Westphalia (NRW).

The ticket price that is adjusted on a yearly basis is paid by ALL students as part of their semester fees to be paid upon enrolment or re-registration, irrespective of the fact whether or not they make use of these tickets.

OWL semester ticket:

On the TRW stripe of the UniCard for students, the current semester identification as well as a specific imprint agreed upon with “OWL-Verkehr” (the contracting party for the regional semester ticket) are shown, so that a valid student UniCard may be used as OWL semester ticket.

After receipt of your UniCard the latter has to be validated, that means it has to be provided with a validity imprint. This validation can be made by yourself using the machines available in the main hall of the university. Two validation stations are located right of the Info Desk and another one in front of the “Westend”. Your UniCard is valid for the current semester. After successful re-registration for the following semester you do not require any new card, but you can validate your card again. At this point of time, the validation will be valid for two semesters – for the current one and the forthcoming one.

The OWL semester ticket is valid for

- all trains (S, RB, RE, Eurobahn, Nord-West-Bahn, Westfalen-Bahn) on the lines shown in black in the map (Please note that you will not be allowed to use any 1st class train compartments. Moreover, the use of long-distance trains - ICE, EC, IC, IR, D-trains, etc. – shall also be prohibited).
- all buses (even the night bus) and trams within the “TeutoOWL“ tariff zone (dark blue)
- specific bus lines within the “TeutoOWL“ transition zone
NRW semester ticket

The NRW-ticket is a separate ticket which shall be carried either in printed form or as pdf file on a smartphone when using public transport. Please note that this ticket is only valid in conjunction with the UniCard and any official identification document, such as an ID card, passport or driving licence. As the NRW semester ticket is not sent by mail, the following link needs to be used to get access to the ticket portal https://www.ots-nrw.de/

A brief instruction (in German language) how to prepare such NRW semester ticket can be found here: https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/studium/studierende/start-ins-studium/checkliste-studienstart/Anleitung_NRW-Ticket.pdf

The NRW-ticket for the next semester can be printed out 45 days prior to the beginning of the semester. Please make sure that you select the correct semester (you are always able to issue a ticket for the current and the next semester).
The federal state-wide NRW-ticket extends the current semester ticket by the following routes:

- Any number of rides on all buses and trains as well as regional trains within the tariff zone of the linked transport systems and transport community within North Rhine-Westphalia.
- The routes currently included in the area of validity of the OWL semester ticket and going beyond the borders of North-Rhine Westphalia
- Moreover, the following routes in Lower Saxony are included:
  Hameln – Lüdge
  Hameln – Rinteln
  “Haller Willem” to Osnabrück
  Ibbenbüren- Osnabrück main station
  Osnabrück main station – Lengerich (Westphalia)
  Osnabrück main station – Halen
  Moreover, the city buses in Osnabrück can be used with the NRW-ticket.
- And in Rhineland-Palatinate
  Niederschelden Nord – Au (Sieg)
  Betzdorf (Sieg) – Struthütten
- And since 1 January 2018 even in the Netherlands: from Gronau to Enschede (however, only up to Enschede, not within Enschede)

https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/stud/verkehrsgruppe/Infos/NRW_Semesterticket_Bielefeld.pdf

The OWL-ticket as well as the NRW-ticket are generally valid as of 1 April (summer semester) or 1 October (winter semester). However, for university entrants the OWL-ticket is already accepted one month prior to the beginning of the semester (that is as of 1 March or 1 September respectively). Both tickets can also be used during the semester break and on weekends.

Please note that neither the OWL-ticket nor the NRW-ticket includes the transport of any bicycles or any other persons. For this purpose, separate tickets are required.

Reimbursement

If a student does not get his or her semester ticket right in time for the beginning of the semester with no fault on his or her own, the latter shall buy a 7-day ticket at the “Mobiel” Service Centre located at Jahnplatz Underground Station. Please note that only weekly tickets may be refunded by the Student Union (ASTA) upon receipt of your regular ticket. For this purpose, an email shall be sent to asta.verkehrsgruppe@uni-bielefeld.de indicating your last name, given name, matriculation number, date of birth, email address, reason for the delayed receipt of your regular semester ticket. Upon receipt of a return email by the Student Union, the ticket(s) will be reimbursed by “Mobiel” Service Centre. For this purpose, the UniCard, a valid passport as well as the ticket(s) acquired are required.

Library card

For using the services of Bielefeld University Library you need your UniCard (see chapter UniCard) serving as library card. Please bring along your UniCard every time you visit the library.

Password-protected services

For some of the library services (loan account, Metasearch, interlibrary loan and Internet access) a personal login is needed.

For the login the User-ID on your UniCard (on the back, in the lower left corner) and library password have to be entered.

Students use their BITS password shown on the confirmation of enrolment. The password can be changed by using the change password option in your loan account (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/library/loan/)

Library organisation

In the library, the books are arranged on open shelves and classified by subject areas, that means that books belonging to one and the same topic can be found together in one place (systematic arrangement). You are allowed to take the books from the shelves yourself in order to read them in the library, make any photocopies or take them out. In the latter case, please present the items to the circulation desk or use the self-service units.

Every book has a shelf mark consisting of letters and numbers helping to sort the books on the shelves. The structure of the shelf marks is as follows: The first two characters indicate the special field, the next three characters indicate the topic area. The block in the second line is composed by the initial letter of the author’s last name and a code which supports the alphabetic order. For finding out where the subject and shelf mark areas are located you can use the local site map of the departmental libraries. The colour of the book label indicates whether or not a book is borrowable. Books having a white book label are normally borrowable, whereas those having a yellow one are not. However, the latter may be read in the library or photocopied in extracts at low prices. Before you look for a book on the shelf, please check its availability in the library catalogue first (https://katalogplus.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/cgi-bin/new_search.cgi?sprache=ENG&art=f).
In the departmental libraries, some textbooks frequently used and any other basic course materials are grouped together and shelved separately in the textbook collection. Each book title is kept in several borrowable copies. The shelf marks of textbooks belonging to the biological textbook collection start as follows: QQ080. If all copies are on loan, you can check the library catalogue (https://katalogplus.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/cgi-bin/new_search.cgi?sprache=ENG&art=f) for any further copies that may be shelved in any other departmental libraries.

Newly acquired books can be found on shelves specially destined for new acquisitions and normally located in the foyers where they remain for a period of approx. one to four weeks. Special labellings or the circulation desk will help to find out whether such items can already be taken out or reserved during this period. A list of new acquisitions of the last four weeks and sorted by departmental libraries is available at https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/new/. A QR-code is tagged on the special shelves, so that you can directly open the relevant list on your smartphone too.

There are some book shelves displaying reserved collections for a number of lectures during the current semester. The latter are normally sorted by the lecturers’ names and are non-circulating items (with the exception of a written approval by the lecturer in charge), even if they have a white shelf mark. However, this literature can be used in individual study zones at any time (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/learn/space/) and copies can also be made. Upon the end of the course, the course reserve will be cleared and all the items shelved at their original location. In case of your lecturer offering a digital course reserve, the documents will be provided to you in a learning management system.

Some collections are shelved in special areas of the departmental libraries, in the Rara magazine and central magazine, such as rare book collections and closed stacks, which are not freely accessible. The circulating desk in the departmental libraries provides any further information with regard to such special areas. Books from the central magazine can be ordered by filling in the relevant order form in the library catalogue (Catalogue.plus!). Depending on the usage conditions, the books ordered by you can be picked up at the circulating desk in D1 (for loan or for use in the library) or for use in the special reading room at the Reference Department (U0). Books from the Rara magazine can be ordered via the library catalogue too. These books can only be read in the special reading room upon appointment.

The special reading room at the Reference Department (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/hours/) is reserved for the usage of rare and protected books. Books ordered via interlibrary loan that do not circulate can also be used here.

The special reading room is open from Monday to Friday between 9 and 18 o’clock. Please note: any old stock deserving special protection and literature relevant under criminal law aspects (Nazi literature, works harmful to juveniles) can be used from 9 to 16 o’clock upon appointment only.

Scientific journals play a prominent role in the field of biology. Journals brought out during the current year can be found in the journal display. The latter cannot be taken out, however, individual papers can be photocopied at low prices in the library. Older journal volumes can be found on the shelves and like the current journal volumes, they are non-circulating items, however, individual papers can be photocopied at low prices in the library. Please note that a number of scientific journals are electronically available via the library’s homepage (http://ub.unibi.de/flchecken). However, the full texts of the licensed journals can only be accessed from the university campus or from any computer in the library.

Microforms are those materials that are not offered in book format, but as roll films (microfilms) or as flat films (microfiches). Bielefeld University Library has large collections from various subject areas as well as journals, newspapers and numerous single titles, e.g. film versions of old titles from any other library stocks and dissertations from any other German universities. Irrespective of their departmental affiliation, such microforms are centrally kept in the microform archive of the Reference Department (U0, entrance via U1). With the help of special scanners the contents of the microfilms and microfiches can be viewed and scanned pages can be saved as pdf files on USB flash drives. The catalogues and lists made available by the Reference Department provide more information with regard to the scope and content of such large collections. Individual titles can be retrieved from the university catalogue.
Local, national and international daily and weekly newspapers are displayed in the Journal Reading Corner of the Reference Department (U0, entrance via U1), while some are kept in the departmental libraries of Linguistics and Literary Studies (C1 and D1) and in the ZiF Library.

Each book bears an individual and distinct bar code describing the location of the item and its loan period. The bar code can be found inside the book, on the very first page.

Example: Bar code 158/4127305+1

<thead>
<tr>

<tbody>
<tr>
<td>15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8</td>
<td>The third character represents the loan condition indicating the loan period in more detail. Number 8, as shown in this example, means that the book can be taken out for 30 days.</td>

Loan account

After login to your loan account (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/library/loan/) you can check all information with regard to your media transactions (due dates, overdue fees, reservations, etc.) and any potential interlibrary loan charges. If applicable, you may extend the loan period yourself.

Borrowing / Returning at Circulation Desks

The circulation desks are located in the entrance areas of each departmental library. At these desks, you can borrow and return library items and collect any reserved books. After the circulation transaction, you will get a receipt indicating all books borrowed and the respective loan periods. The library is obliged by federal law to impose any overdue fees (see below) as of the very next day after the end of any loan period already.

The library staff will certainly be of help to you in case of any questions and problems (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/#terminals).

Borrowing / returning items by using Self-Service Units

Borrowing and returning books by using self-service units is possible during the whole opening hours of the library (until 23,50 o’clock at the latest).

Students with a valid UniCard do not need a library password for borrowing any library items when using the new self-service units. These machines, recognisable by the green-lit surface, can be found in the foyer of the departmental libraries in the areas D, T, U as well as in the Building X.

When using self-service units with a barcode scanner the library password is additionally required. Such units can be found in the foyer of the library in the areas D, E, U and V as well as in the Building X.

Please note that the return of library items is generally possible without your UniCard. The self-service units for returning any items can be found in the foyer of the departmental libraries in the areas D and U as well as in the Building X.
When borrowing / returning any items by using self-service units, you will receive a receipt which you should check for correctness and keep carefully.

Any loans under special conditions and books ordered via Interlibrary Loan can only be returned at the circulation desks or in the Central Lending Department (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/departments/lending.xml) from Monday to Friday between 8,00 and 18,00 o’clock.

Reservations

If any library item of interest to you is currently lent out, you can make a reservation for it in the library catalogue. Please check beforehand whether the library generally holds several circulating and accessible copies of such item.

As soon as the requested item is available a notification will be sent to you by email or post indicating the time and place of collection. The reservations will be saved for a 7-day period. For a cost-free notification by email please enter your email address in your loan account. Please note that in case of a postal notification postal charges in the amount of 0.70 EUR will be charged to your account.

In your loan account, you can keep track of any completed or outstanding reservations or even cancel them, if necessary.

Extension of the loan period

You are allowed to extend the loan period of a book up to five times at the most, provided that
a) there is no reservation for the latter
b) the loan condition assigned is either 4 or 7 (loan period of 15 days; 5 extensions possible) or 8 or 9 (loan period of 30 days; 5 extensions possible)

Please note that the extension of the loan period shall be made on the last day of the original loan period at the latest, as otherwise any overdue fees will be charged to your loan account.

The “new” loan period will start on the day of extension. Extension of the loan period can be made online by using the appropriate feature in your loan account – simply press the button “Extend loan period”.

However, you may also ask for the extension of the loan period at the circulation desks (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/#terminals) by phone, in writing or in person.

Please note that the loan period of any items provided by the interlibrary loan service cannot be extended.

Written requests concerning the extension of loan periods shall be received before the due date.

Address for written requests:
Universitätsbibliothek Bielefeld
Central Lending Department

Which items are excluded from interlibrary loan?

The regulations for interlibrary loan in Germany are laid down in the German Lending Rules. These rules also stipulate which items are not circulated through interlibrary loan. These include e.g.:

- Items which are located in your library or in a publicly accessible library in your town. In this case, you will get an appropriate message from the system upon ordering.
- Low-cost items available from bookshops. In such case, the costs for processing your order would be higher than the purchase of this item. The current limit is 20.00 EUR.
- Rare items or items of great value, especially dating from the 16th and 17th century. The majority of the libraries even exclude any items published before 1800 from interlibrary loan. However, copying or microfilming the latter is often possible.
- Loose-leaf books and in sheets or single journal issues
- Items of poor condition

Are there any restrictions for usage?

The lending library will be allowed to impose any terms of use with regard to their material, such as usage only in reading rooms, copy prohibition, etc. The borrowing library shall pass these restrictions on to the users.
How long is the loan period?

The loan period will be set individually by the lending library and is normally four weeks. The loan period and - if appropriate - any note for special usage conditions can be seen on the date slip accompanying the item. The loan period cannot be extended!

Where do I return the items?

The items borrowed via Interlibrary Loan can be returned in the Central Lending Department (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/departments/lending.xml) or any circulation desk from Monday to Friday between 8 and 18 o’clock. Please keep the date slip with the item and consider that such items cannot be returned at self-service units.

(https://katalogplus.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/cgi-bin/new_search.cgi?sprache=ENG&art=f)

By using the Catalogue.plus! you can find all books, journals and electronic documents, e.g. e-books, CDs and DVDs held by the university library. The catalogue includes more than 2m printed documents and more than 500,000 online publications.

b) Interlibrary Loan (Metasearch)
(https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/library/ordering/)

The use of Metasearch enables you to search in several library catalogues and databases at the same time. If you want to search for a special subject, you may conduct a subject-related search. As a member of Bielefeld University, you are qualified for using several extended features by way of your personal login. To some extent, the documents are available as full text versions. If not, you can see from which library or bookstore the document can be obtained.

Journal articles:

a) Library catalogue "Catalogue.plus!"
(https://katalogplus.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/cgi-bin/new_search.cgi?sprache=ENG&art=f)

When searching the library catalogue Catalogue.plus!, several licensed databases will also be searched in one go. The results will be displayed in the box "Articles and more".

b) Subject Databases (DBIS)
(https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/databases/)

DBIS, the subject database retrieval system, supplies information from thousands of databases and allows you to search all databases via one user interface. Several databases provide free access and some databases provide search options for journal articles.

c) EZB (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/databases/)
The Electronic Journal Database includes thousands of scholarly journals. 50 percent of these journals are available in full text versions for free. As a registered library user, you will get access to a lot of licenced journals. The red, yellow and green dots show you in a simple way whether or not a journal is accessible.
Scholary internet resources:

The Bielefeld Academic Search Engine, in short BASE, is a search engine that searches millions of scholarly documents included in thousands of sources. The display of search results includes precise bibliographic data, given that these data are provided in the resource. The intellectually selected resources and the disclosure of any web resources of the "Deep Web" which are ignored by commercial search engines are special features of BASE.

b) PUB – Publication at Bielefeld University (https://pub.uni-bielefeld.de/)
The publication server PUB of Bielefeld University contains more than 20,000 publications by academics of all faculties at Bielefeld University. Full texts in combination with valid descriptive data are provided.

Subject-related research:

a) Subject Portals (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/portals/)
The Subject Portals at Bielefeld University provide information for your studies sorted by subjects. Apart from any information with regard to contact details of the particular departmental library, you will find a lot of worth knowing information, i.e. about scientific internet resources, trainings and subject databases.

b) The Classified Catalogue
By using the classified catalogue you will get a general idea of the stock of the university library and it is here where you can conduct a subject-based search. Structures and relations between several fields of knowledge are shown in this catalogue. Large fields of knowledge are fragmented into their several sciences which are divided into several topics and terms. You have two options of searching: you can either use the browsing feature (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/classification/) or the search screen (see as well https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/search/classification/).

The printing charges are directly debited to your UniCard.

Photocopying and scanning in the library

There are multifunctional devices for photocopying and scanning in each building part of the main university building as well as in the Building X. They can also be used for printing (https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/learn/space/ // choose details “photocopying and Scanning”). Book scanners allowing particularly ergonomic and careful scanning are available in the departmental libraries in the building parts C, U0, V and in the Building X. Their exact locations can be found in the site plan of the departmental libraries (https://www.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/contact/departments/). Any scans, copies and printouts are settled cashless via your Unicard. Scanned documents can directly be saved on USB flash drives. Any further scanning functions (download, sending off by email, etc.) are currently in preparation.

WEB AUTHENTICATION THROUGH SHIBBOLETH

For enabling students to access the following services offered by external providers and protected web contents BITS uses the authorization and authentication service Shibboleth.

When logging on to any service provided by an external provider (service provider, SP), you will be taken to the login website of Bielefeld University (Identity Provider, IdP) at first. It is here where you have to enter the personal university login data for being checked by the IdP at first. In case of a successful login, the SP will check with the help of the user data (no passwords) whether access to the services will be granted.

PASSWORD CHANGES

I.) PASSWORD CHANGE IN THE PRISMA PORTAL (Identity Management – IDM)
The combination of the user name and password allows the access to personal data and resources. For this reason, the login data should be kept in strict confidence! Another security measure involves the regular change of the password. It should be changed at least once a year.

1) First of all, please open the website https://prisma.uni-bielefeld.de. Please enter your matriculation number as well as your password (your initial password is the one shown on your confirmation of enrolment).

2) Please click on Change passwords in the menu.

3) A list of your personal access rights (accounts) is shown here. Please note that different passwords may be allocated for the different target systems. In these instructions, the password change is shown in an exemplary manner for all accounts at the same time. With clicking on Select all, all accounts will be selected; then, please click on Set password at the bottom.
4) A summary of the accounts selected will be displayed. The new password has to be entered here and saved. A new password can be suggested by using the button “Generate Password”.

5) In case of successful change of the password, please confirm the message by clicking on OK.
II.) BITS PASSWORD CHANGE (User Management)

The combination of the user name and BITS (Bielefeld IT Service Centre) password allows the access to personal data and resources. For this reason, the login data should be kept in strict confidence! Another security measure involves the regular change of the password. It should be changed at least once a year.

The change of the BITS password has to be made in the User Management (http://benvw.uni-bielefeld.de). For using the User Management Java has to be installed: http://www.java.com/de/download.

Quick method for the password change

Those persons using one and the same password for all services provided by Bielefeld University can use the quick method for generating a new password. All others have to follow the traditional method (see below).

Login

Go to “Login to the User Management”.

Please enter the BITS user name and password and click on “Generate new BITS password”.

The new password will now be generated and has to be kept in mind, noted down or printed out by the user. With clicking on “OK” the new password generated will be confirmed and the old one overwritten. This process may take several minutes.

Upon successful generation, the opposite message will appear.

Please note that with this password change the library password for the borrowing account and interlibrary loan has not been changed. The latter has to be changed using the following link: https://www.ub.uni-bielefeld.de/ub/library/loan/
Traditional method for the password change

Please enter the BITS user name and password and confirm by clicking on “Login”.

After the login, the password can be changed by clicking on the button “Password change”.

A new, self-chosen password can be entered as follows:
> Click on the button “Select all”
> Please enter the new password in the respective fields
> Please click on the button “Set password for the rights selected” in order to generate the new password.

Important: The new password must consist of eight characters and must not be easy to guess!

The network drive connected before can be disconnected by right-clicking on the same with “Disconnect”.
Network drive connection under Mac OS X

Access to the network drives shall be possible both from the campus network and externally, provided that the computer has first been connected by LAN, WLAN or VPN with the network of Bielefeld University.

Connect network drive

For establishing the connection, the following steps need to be followed:

> Open Finder
> Press the Apple + K button (the window “Connect with server” will open up)
> The following server address needs to be entered

  "smb://AD;"username"@fs-home.uni-bielefeld.de/home/"username"

  “username” stands for the respective BITS user name.
> After having entered the BITS password, all subfolders of fs-home.uni-bielefeld.de\home will be opened at first. This is very time-consuming, as fs-home currently contains more than 20,000 folders. The own directory will directly open up as of Mac OS X 10.5.8.
> The folders displayed also include the own network drive (with full reading and writing permission) whose name corresponds with the BITS user name.
> It would be best to create an alias on the desk: hold the directory by drag, press “ALT + Apple” and place it on the desk by drop.

For preventing that the entry “HOME” will be accessed by mistake in the favorites bar (very time-consuming), this entry shall be deleted and only the ALIAS used for access. In addition, the option “Connected server” shall be deactivated via “Finder > Settings > General”, so that the “HOME” connection will no longer be displayed on the desk.

Data security – backup and recovery

Every user can recover any lost data from the network drive with the help of the backup with the exception of the “WWW” folder whose contents cannot be recovered by this procedure.

All network drives are centrally backed up by way of a so-called snapshot technology for several times a day. Any data backed up during this procedure will be kept as follows for six weeks:

- 8,00 o’clock to 18,00 o’clock hourly version (the last one at night will be kept)
- One version per week
- After 6 weeks without any processing only one version will be available

In the following instructions, the file “7.1-Change-password.pdf” shall be recovered.

With clicking on “Right mouse button > Settings”, data of the marked network drive can be recovered.
Under Windows 7 all backups available for the respective network drive will be displayed in the tab "Previous versions".

At first, a decision has to be made from which backup (change date) data shall be recovered.

After having marked the relevant entry, please click on Open.

The network drive will be opened up in a new window and has the status of the selected point of time.

The file searched for (7.1-Change-password.pdf) is available in this backup.
With clicking the Right mouse button, the file can be copied (1). Afterwards, a change to the actual network drive is made (2).

The file copied from the backup is inserted here: Right mouse button > Insert
The file “7.1-Change-password.pdf” is now again available on the network drive.

VPN (VIRTUAL PRIVATE NETWORK)

VPN (Virtual Private Network) is destined for all those who would like to access any specific services of Bielefeld University (e.g. research databases of the library) by using any Internet access from outside the university. For establishing the VPN connection with Bielefeld University Bielefeld IT Service Centre (BITS) provides Clientsoftware (Cisco AnyConnect VPN-Client) for the operating systems such as Windows, MacOS and Linux as well as smartphones/tablet computers. This service is available to students immediately after activation of their own account.

Automatic installation

Please open the link https://vpn-gate-1.uni-bielefeld.de with any browser and enter your user name and password. The operating system will automatically be recognized and the download of the Client started. The initial installation requires administrator rights.

Please note: The automatic installation is subject to the availability of SUN Java or Active X. In case of this requirement not being met, you have to fall back on the manual installation (see below).

Invitation for automatic installation

Please click on “Start” to confirm the note of the digital signature of the application being verified.

After installation the connection will immediately be established. The AnyConnect icon will appear as a small round icon in the taskbar and can additionally be found in the section of the Programmes.

Manual installation

If the automatic installation does not work because of either no or any outdated version of SUN Java on the computer, the AnyConnect Client has to be installed manually. If the automatic installation cannot be started, you are requested to use the manual installation after a few seconds.

Please start the installation routine by clicking on the link indicated and confirm the respective intermediate steps by clicking on “Start” or “Next”. The installation process will be terminated by clicking on “Install” and “Finish”. Upon the first connection attempt, the following server name has to be entered in the empty box on the left and next to “Connect”: vpn-gate-1.uni-bielefeld.de

Please note: When using Linux, the installation routine has to be saved at first before it can be run.
Invitation for manual installation
