

Planning for the Structured PhD programme of the Department of Psychology

Information on the doctoral project

Supervisor

Planned topic of the doctoral thesis

In order to participate in the structured PhD programme of the Department of Psychology, I am planning the following activities* after consultation with my supervisor. I am aware that I must complete at least 18 credit points (CP) in the structured PhD program. The planning must therefore include at least 18 CP, but may also include more CP. Please indicate the number of CP associated with each activity in brackets. A minimum of 0.5 CP and a maximum of 2 CP per activity can be credited (see the crediting recommendation on the programme homepage for guidance). To calculate the CP for recurring activities, e.g. teaching your own seminar, please indicate how often the activity is planned. In your planning, assume a 3-year or 6-semester program duration. Adjustments can still be made during the course of the program.

*Here it is sufficient to specify activities at structural level, e.g. without naming a specific event. The aim here is to roughly plan which elements from the qualification areas would like to be completed (an example plan on the program homepage provides orientation). In the further history, the program offer can then be scanned for suitable concrete activities.
