

Examination Management: How to reallocate credits & grades

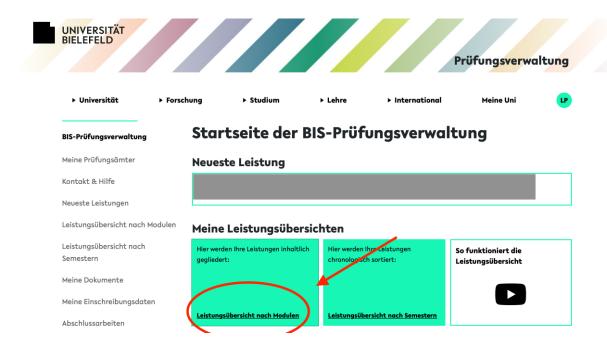

The Examination Management is listing your achieved credits and grades automatically. To create your profile and decide what seminars and papers you want to assign to your modules you are able to change their allocations yourself.

Ideally you plan ahead and select the seminars based on the modules you want to include into your career. Some seminars are only valid for one type of module, while others are compatible with different options. This information is provided at the eKVV's description of the seminar under Subject assignments.

1. Enter your Examination management:

3. Choose the achievement you want to reassign to a different module and click Zuordnung ändern (change allocation) below the title:

4. Select alternative allocation as listed:

5. Check the new allocation:
