

JAMES MANOR | LONDON

CHANGING INTER-CASTE DYNAMICS IN RURAL INDIA:

'Lower' Castes' Rejection of Caste Hierarchies, Increases in Tensions and Violence, and Accommodations that Prevent Violence

Lecture | 05 Dec 2018 | 18 – 20 p.m. | X-E0-001

James Manor is an Emeritus Professor for Commonwealth Studies at the School for Advanced Study, University of London.

His focus areas of research are Contemporary History, Globalization & Development, Human Rights, Local Government, Modern History, Political Institutions.

The public lecture is part of the lecture series „Violence – Change – Transition“ with a focus on comparing, organized by the Institute for Interdisciplinary Conflict and Violence Research (IKG), and the SFB 1288.

www.uni-bielefeld.de/ikg

www.uni-bielefeld.de/sfb1288