Non-Finite Root Structures
Hans-Martin Gärtner

Abstract
The grammar and pragmatics of non-finite root structures will be explored, with particular attention paid to their left periphery, truncation, covert modality, licensing of modal particles, sentence types, and speech act values. The course includes prospecting a (cross-linguistic) typology of inventories as well as discussion of influential theoretical accounts.