

Research Class „Quantitative Methods and Statistics“
Beleg-Nr. 300296

Method Class „Quantitative Methods and Statistics“
Beleg-Nr. 300295

Di 16 - 18 Uhr

Referatstermine

Datum	Name	Thema des Referats
21.04.2020		Einführung
28.04.2020	Jost Reinecke	Continuous Time Modeling of Panel Data
05.05.2020	Georg Kessler	Hidden Markov Models with crime-data
12.05.2020	Anke Erdmann	The Maturation Process of Adolescent Victim-Offenders: How Change in Behavior, Norms, and Attitudes is Moderated by Early Involvement in Violence
19.05.2020	Valentina Rivera	Changes in attitudes towards female employment: deviations and approaches from the male-breadwinner model. A comparative study in Chile, Japan and Germany
26.05.2020	Marvin Bürmann	Refugee's (Un-)Fulfilled Aspirations to Catch up on Education - Why do Some Invest in Education, While Others Don't?
02.06.2020	Dorian Tsolak/ Marvin Bürmann	Intergenerational employment mobility among female migrants in Europe
09.06.2020	Florian Kaiser	It's not just how and with whom they spend their time, but also how moral they are: How personal morals moderate criminogenic peer influences
16.06.2020	Marcy Freise	Insights into lesbian online dating: Who, where and what? Using computational social science to reveal habits, characteristics and types of lesbian online daters
23.06.2020	Elisa Gensler	Digitalized regulation of work and its perception by employees
30.06.2020	Laura Lükemann	The effect of claims-making on individual wages in German workplaces
07.07.2020	Eileen Peters	Gender and gendered parenthood gaps in the access to employer-provided training and the role of supervisors
14.07.2020	Tatiana Saraseko	Global cities actorness in global governance

* u.U. kann das Kolloquium auch bis 19 Uhr dauern, da auch Doppeltermine eingeplant werden/sind.