Here you will find all the information you need about your own studies:

Possible combinations of the degree programmes and descriptions and lists of modules. The „FsB: Fächerspezifische Bestimmungen“, the subject-specific regulations.

The screenshot displays the BIS website interface. At the top, the University of Bielefeld logo is on the left, and a decorative header with diagonal stripes in various colors is on the right, with the text 'Courses offered' in the top right corner. Below the header, a navigation bar contains links: 'University', 'Research', 'Studies', 'Teaching', 'International', 'My Uni', and 'DE | LOGIN'. The 'University' link is active. The main content area is titled 'The courses offered at Bielefeld University'. It includes a sub-header 'Courses offered' and a list of links: 'My courses', 'Bachelor Construction Kit', 'Search for modules', 'The Bielefeld model of studies', 'Studies for the teaching profession', 'Information on application', 'Central Counselling Services', 'Recognition of qualification', and 'FAQ'. Below this list is a section 'Further links' with a link to 'Help & Contact'. The main content area also features a search box with the placeholder text 'Enter a subject...'. To the right of the search box, a list of degree programmes is shown, including 'Bachelor', 'Master of Arts / Science', 'Master of Education', 'State examination', and 'Doctoral study programmes'. Below these, a list of specific subjects is provided: 'Aesthetic Education', 'Applied Psychology: Diagnostics, Counselling and Training', 'Art', 'Art History and Historical Image Studies', 'Behaviour: From Neural Mechanisms to Evolution', 'Biochemistry', 'Bioinformatics', 'Bioinformatics and Genome Research', 'Biology', and 'BioMechatronics'. On the far right, a section titled 'Further information' contains several links: 'Overview 1-Subject Bachelor', 'Bachelor combination possibilities', 'Bachelor combination possibilities with teaching option', 'Information on doctorate', 'Further education opportunities at Bielefeld University', 'Double-degree programmes', 'English taught Master programs & International Tracks', and a logo for 'Bachelor Baukasten'.

Logon to electronic course catalogue (eKVV)

There are various options how to log on to the electronic course catalogue (eKVV). Please chose the one applicable to you:

eKVV for Students

To create a timetable and use all other functions of the eKVV for students, use this link to register via your Uni Login:

Logon for students

If you do not (yet) have a Uni Login, you can also use the electronic course catalogue (eKVV) via a guest account:

Log-on using an existing guest account

Creating a new guest account

eKVV for employees

The internal pages for editing the (electronic course catalogue) eKVV for teachers and secretariats can be reached here:

Logon for internal eKVV

A single sign-on for MyUni Portal, eKVV, application and status portal, course sites and examination management with your matriculation number and your password.

When you have a guest account, you can make your timetable and your timetable will be adopted when you change your guest account into your students account. But later when you pass an exam, the result will not be adopted. That's why you should change your account as soon as possible when your matriculation number and your password are activated.

Contents, comment In this class, students will be given the opportunity to extend and consolidate their writing skills in literary studies through regular and intensive writing tasks. In a range of exercises, students will practise how to develop a research question in literary studies, how to turn this question into a clear and detailed thesis statement as a basis for a well-structured argument, and how to write a coherent, cohesive, stylistically appropriate paper. The ultimate goal of this class is to help prepare students for writing their module paper in the "Introduction to Literary Studies" (Basic Module 2).
Requirements for participation, required level Students are expected to have a general understanding of writing in professional contexts and of analysing and interpreting Anglophone literatures; in other words: it is not advisable to attend this class prior to 'Writing and Research' and the lecture 'Introduction to Literary Analysis and Interpretation'.
Bibliography Will be provided.

Notes

In the schedule view are not displayed:

1. Courses whose dates are still not published

2. Courses whose dates you have removed from your timetable

3. Courses whose date information is missing from the electronic course catalogue (eKVV) or incomplete

4. Examination dates (you find these under 'My examinations')

If courses are not shown in the plan you might see them in the separate list below.

In the weekly schedule, move the mouse to a date. To obtain more information on the course, let the mouse hover over the time for a moment.

If you click on the course title you access the detailed page with all further information. When you click the remove icon you go to a page from which you can remove the course or individual dates from your timetable.

You can remove a lecture from your timetable by clicking on the small „x“.

Course Description

Das Ziel des Seminars besteht vor allem darin, den Studierenden des Studiengangs "Klinische Linguistik" die Kriterien der Aphasiediagnostik zu vermitteln. Dieser praktische Teil ermöglicht die Diskussion sowohl von Transkriptionsverfahren und der Auswertung des Aachener-Aphasie-Tests als auch spezifischer Fragen der Diagnose von Aphasie.

The eKVV

- Lectures can have a limitation of the number of participants.
- Based on the participant management function, the electronic course catalogue (eKVV) can provide you with information (→ e-mail adress!) as to whether you were assigned a seat in the lecture. But the assignment of the seats is internally organised by the faculties.
- The electronic course catalogue (eKVV) can only tell you about your participant status once you have logged in to the electronic course catalogue (eKVV) and stored the course in your timetable.

The eKVV - Onlinebedarfserhebung

- The „Onlinebedarfserhebung“ is organised before every new term.
- The faculties upload their programme of lectures for the following term.
- All students plan their expected timetable for the new term. It is not binding but you should do it realistically.
- First semester students don't need to do this because the planning begins earlier.
- As a result the faculties know how many students will participate in the different lectures and they can adapt the rooms accordingly. Also they can postpone courses if necessary.

The BIS examination management

- Management of all examination results.
- It is based on the eKVV participation lists
- At the end of the degree programme, the "Transcript of Records" (abbreviated to: Transcript) is part of the certificate documents
- All students can view and partly edit their own Transcripts
- If you accidentally change assignments incorrectly, don't worry. → Nothing gets lost and nothing gets broken
